

ISSCR 2020

24-27 JUNE 2020
BOSTON, USA

ISSCR ABSTRACT SUBMISSION FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. Do I have to be an ISSCR member to submit an abstract?

No, but all meeting participants are encouraged to apply for membership in the Society. ISSCR membership is open to stem cell investigators in all environments including universities, medical schools, government agencies, for-profit and not-for-profit research laboratories and industries worldwide. Membership benefits include a substantial meeting registration discount. Learn more or become a member.

2. Is there an abstract submission fee?

Yes, there is a $75.00 USD non-refundable charge to submit an abstract until 12 February, 2020. After 18 February, 2020 a $110 fee for each Late-Breaking abstract is charged.

3. Do I need to register for the meeting to present my abstract?

Yes, all poster presenters must be registered by 29 April, 2020. Submission of an abstract does not constitute registration for the meeting. You can wait to register until you hear if your abstract is accepted, but you must register in order to present.

4. My exhibiting company will register me; do I have to be sure I am registered to present my poster?

Yes. ALL poster presenters must be registered by 29 April, 2020. Be sure your company registers you by this date.

5. What presentation formats are available?

You may submit an abstract for an oral or poster presentation. All submissions are subject to review and ranked for scientific content. The Program Committee will consider the highest ranked oral presentations submissions for 8 minute oral presentation in a concurrent session or, for a small number, a plenary session. Most of the remaining submissions will be accepted for poster presentations. Oral presentations must indicate whether they are willing to present as a poster if the program committee is unable to accept the abstract for an oral presentation. Willingness to accept a poster presentation will in no way inhibit the opportunity for an oral presentation. For more information, view the Call for Abstracts and Abstract Submission Instructions.

6. How long can an abstract be?

Abstracts submitted for the ISSCR Annual Meeting cannot exceed 2,000 characters not including spaces.

7. Where can view my submission details after I have submitted?

Presenting authors can return to the abstract submission site using this link or the link provided in their submission confirmation email at anytime to preview the submission details.

8. Where can I get an invoice for my submission payment?

Presenting authors can return to the abstract submission site using this link or the link provided in their submission confirmation email at anytime to view and download the receipt for fee payment.

9. When will I know if my abstract was chosen for a concurrent session or when my poster presentation is scheduled?

Presenting authors will receive an email notification of their abstract placement, including information on the specific concurrent or poster session, in early April.

Note: All correspondence and notifications regarding your abstract come from abstracts@isscr.org

Please confirm with your email service provider that this address is not blocked or filtered.

10. May I withdraw my abstract after the submission deadline?

Yes, however, the submission fee will not be refunded. Poster abstracts withdrawn by May 6, 2020 will be excluded from electronic program materials.

11. May I change the abstract presenter after the submission deadline?

The new presenter MUST be a co-author on the submitted abstract and must be a registered attendee. Changes are accepted until 6 May, 2020 and must be submitted to abstracts@isscr.org

12. Where and when will my abstract (if accepted) be published?

The ISSCR may publish the titles and authors of accepted abstracts in electronic and/or print formats before the meeting. Abstracts will be made available to meeting registrants from approximately one month prior to the meeting, although the contents are embargoed until the time of presentation. Abstracts accepted for oral presentation will be printed in the meeting final program. Poster abstracts will be printed in the meeting poster abstract books and made available in print and electronic form to meeting attendees. Following the meeting, these materials may be made publicly available.

13. Are there special programs for Trainees?

Graduate/ Medical students or Post-doctoral fellows receive substantial discounts on ISSCR membership and meeting registration. However, in order to register at the discounted rate, you must first join the ISSCR as a Trainee member. The ISSCR 2020 Annual Meeting will include a program of educational, networking and social events for junior investigators. In addition, ISSCR Trainee members' abstracts and presentations will be considered for the ISSCR Merit Abstract Awards and Poster Presentation Awards.

14. Do the Trainee Travel Awards cover the cost of the abstract submission fee?

No, the abstract submission fee must be paid by all abstract submitters and the fee will not be reimbursed or waived for those accepting travel awards.

15. When will I be notified about the Travel Awards?

Notifications will be sent by 16 March, 2020, prior to the Early Registration rate deadline. Travel Award winners will receive complimentary meeting registration so you should wait to register until 16 March if you asked to be considered for a Travel Award.

16. What are my chances of receiving a Travel award?

Due to the large number of applications for travel awards, the ISSCR is not able to fund most requests. We suggest you also explore alternative sources for travel funds early in your planning process.
